

ENVS PROGRAM ORIENTATION TRIP FOR INCOMING STUDENTS

VCU's Center for Environmental Studies (CES) has partnered with the Rec Sports' Outdoor Adventure Program (OAP) to offer a 2-d wilderness backpacking trip to all interested incoming CES first year and transfer students.

These optional, peer-led, adventure-based experiences are designed to help prepare students for life at VCU while building friendships with those who share similar academic interests. Program orientation trips offer participants opportunities to meet other incoming environmental studies students & faculty while challenging themselves through adventure in the outdoors.

No prior experience necessary– CES & OAP strive to meet accommodation needs and will coordinate with individuals so that students of all abilities may participate.
